

The Knowledge Bank at The Ohio State University

Ohio State Engineer

Title: Quadrangle Quips

Issue Date: 1941-03

Publisher: Ohio State University, College of Engineering

Citation: Ohio State Engineer, vol. 24, no. 4 (March, 1941), 18.

URI: <http://hdl.handle.net/1811/35782>

QUADRANGLE QUIPS

Campus Caperer, Commerce 5

Well the Engineers' Prom is over and the campus caperer has returned to his bread and water diet, while all the good looking sorority girls are locked in the basements of their respective sorority houses; until the next big dance. If any one knows where the campus queens hide when not at dances, please notify Dick Tressemer, for he is still looking for a date. Dick "Wolf" Bailey is leading a strenuous love life these days. He took Lynn Miller to the prom, and then spent his time dancing with the other lads' girls. The next night Betty Mueller dragged him to the Gold Diggers annual shin-kick. Incidentally, Bailey, why have you taken such an interest in church lately?

John Niggermyer had his home-town gal down for the dance, and she liked the place so well, that she stayed over another day. The married members of the quadrangle were well represented by Rollin Smith, Claude White and Dick Reiss, all turning up at the prom with their wives—I think?

Dean Turnbull gave the Texnikoi boys a good scare by showing up a bit late for their tapping ceremony at the prom. Jim "Ad-lib" Robinson carried on in true class president style to save the day. It looks as if the engineers will have to get some beautiful girls in their organizations, in order to lure the Makio photographer over to the quadrangle. Said gentleman has stood up three different societies on picture appointments.

Professor "Bill" Mueller walked into a metallurgy class recently, and spied Bob Meyers with his shoes off. In answer to "Bill's" inquiry on the situation, Meyers promptly replied "Well only horses sleep with their shoes on." Incidentally Meyers' love interest was selected Valentine Queen by Life Magazine recently. Man about Metallurgy, George Michalos has given Paul Ward his girl back after a fast but not furious affair. But it seems Paul now has a new girl—all very confusing. If anyone is interested in sweetening the odoriferous Mirror Lake see John Ireland, for he is an authority on the subject.

Alton Adams, Ernie Oehling, and Dusty Rhodes had a short warmup before the Gold Diggers prom, and Adams ended up asleep on the floor of the Theta Tau house. Al Pitman has his Delta Chi pin back, but still buys orchids and goes to Cleveland every week-end—very interesting.

Ivan Spraitzar, campus J. P. Morgan, has quit dating queens and is concentrating rather definitely on Delta Gam Harriet Watson. Even the flu can't keep Eggie Rothermund from being with his love life Frankie Caldfield down Cincinnati way each week-end.

Walt Schaefer and Vernon Becker were in the hospital with the flu not long ago, and both trucked to the Engineers' Prom with nurses—they both feel fine too! Senior Class Prexy James R. Robinson is still trying to explain the railroad tactics of the engineers at the senior class meeting. Beta boy Chuck Boardman is still gurgling little love words to blond (but definitely) Adele Tussey.

Gerry Gambs, former Texnikoi Prexy, surprised everyone by dropping in to the prom with his Penna. heart warmer. He spent a busy evening renewing acquaintances, and smiling at his former campus loves, Mary Ellen Ford and Eleanor Smith. Bob Stone, recent E.E. graduate, also returned for the prom from Purdue, where he is an assistant in the E.E. Department.

The Engineers' Council barely entered the elusive "400" club on their prom again—for details and comps, see J. Ted McQuaide or Dick Snyder. Editor Don Postlewaite hasn't done much in a social way this quarter, so we won't mention his name in this column.